FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

SANTA CLARA, CA—JUNE 16, 2008—Imagine instead of taking over five hours to convert a video for your iPod, it only takes 35 minutes. Imagine using your PC to simulate protein folding to help find a cure for debilitating diseases. Imagine that your PC can dramatically accelerate everyday tasks, and deliver an exciting visual experience in the process. Today that imagination becomes a reality now that the leader in visual computing technologies, NVIDIA (Nasdaq: NVDA), has introduced its new family of GeForce® GTX 200 graphics processors (GPUs)—which includes the GeForce GTX 280 and GeForce GTX 260 GPUs—taking graphics beyond gaming and gaming beyond anything that's ever been possible before on a consumer computing platform.

"The advances NVIDIA continues to make in visual computing are simply incredible, and we are excited to be one of the first companies in the world to offer the technology in the new Exhibition Edition of the award-winning HP Blackbird 002," said Rahul Sood, chief technology officer, HP Voodoo Business Unit. "Exceptional graphics quality and performance is important to our customers, and now the GeForce GTX 200 GPUs are bringing something else into the mix. By using the GPU to enhance everyday applications such as video encoding and manipulating photos, HP Blackbird 002 is one of the most cutting-edge PC platforms ever designed."

The GeForce GTX 280 GPU has 240 parallelized processing cores, and can convert high-quality video more than 18 times faster than the latest CPUs.

Reasons to create a press release

Concept Case 8.1: Falcon's Lair

Getting the Facts Together

1. Using both this information and what you already know about The Falcon's Lair, discuss how you would format a backgrounder for the company.
2. In what order would you place these facts on a fact sheet? Is there anything you would exclude? Is there anything else you think you should add? Explain.
3. Write three questions that you feel would be appropriate to include on The Falcon's Lair's FAQs. Be sure to include answers.

Concept Case 8.2: Falcon's Lair

Writing a Press Release

1. Discuss the pros and cons of each headline, and explain which one you feel is best.
2. Write your own headline and explain why it is better than any of the above.
3. Write a lead paragraph that supports your headline and explain why you worded it as you did.

Reflection Questions

1. Discuss the value of the press kit to the MPR professional as well as to connectors.
2. Explain the purpose served by backgrounders, fact sheets, and FAQs.
3. Describe the format of a backgrounder and explain the “Who Cares” test.
4. Discuss the impact of the organization of the facts on a fact sheet and explain under what circumstances you would choose to use an FAQ instead.
5. What are the types of support material typically included in a press kit and what are the specific contributions of each piece?
6. Compare and contrast the benefits and limitations of electronic and paper press kits.
7. What is the primary objective of a press release and what are some reasons for creating one?
8. Describe the format of a press release and explain the purpose of each element.
9. Explain the concept of the inverted pyramid and why it is important to press release writing.
10. Discuss both the benefits and drawbacks of video news releases and explain your thoughts on how and when marketers should use them.

Practice Portfolio

- Using one or more of the sources listed in “PR Databases and Directories,” in conjunction with material supplied by individual connectors and auditing bureaus, create a comprehensive media list for your company. Briefly describe why you chose each connector.
